Message from the Editor

Dear Friend,

As we share this special issue of our California Casualty Connection, we hope that you and your loved ones are safe and well.

It goes without saying that COVID-19 has changed our world and impacted our daily lives in a way that is indescribable. In this edition, you will hear from your fellow AmeriCAN heroes as they share their thoughts about the world today; gain insight on an important policy endorsement that is often overlooked; get quick tips for you and your vehicle as you head back on the road; and share in some fun ways our communities have stayed connected while apart.

Thank you for being a part of our California Casualty family. We are in this together.
