

Clues It's Time to Shop for Auto Insurance

Your rates went up. Shopping around may help lower your premiums.

Your policy ends soon. This is a good time to compare auto insurance quotes.

You've had big life changes. A milestone birthday, marriage or divorce and new residence all can impact auto rates.

You had a bad service experience. Reduce stress by finding an insurance company with a high satisfaction rating.

You're buying a new car. New cars often have lower rates because they're safer than older cars.

You have a new teen driver. You may need to switch to mitigate a potential increase in rates.

Your credit rating went up. In most states, this can help you get a better insurance rate.

Your child has good grades. Good Student Discounts are available for drivers with at least a B grade average.

Your New Year's resolution is to save money. Reducing insurance rates can add up to big savings.

Your traffic infraction has expired. You can see substantial savings when these come off your driving record.

Your commute changed. If you're driving less now, your rate could go down.

You took a class. A Driver Refresher Course can help you get a better rate.
